

General Pershing Arrives Home From France

DR. WHITESIDE BACK IN PLOVER

Honored by Two Foreign Governments, Former Portage County Assemblyman Returns Home on Month's Furlough

IAS MAJOR IN RED CROSS

Entered Service as Lieutenant and Won Promotion to High Post While in France

After spending a year and a half overseas as an officer in the service of the American Red Cross and receiving decorations from two foreign governments for conspicuous service, Dr. George D. Whiteside, former Portage county assemblyman, has returned to his home in Plover.

Entering the service as a first lieutenant, Dr. Whiteside was promoted captain in October, 1918, and to major in the following December. When he completed his work abroad he was director of the medical and surgical department of the Red Cross France, and thus at the head of this important department of Red Cross work. He was given the Medal of Honor, in gold, by the French government, and on the day he started on a long trip home was presented with a Revolutionary Medal of the new Czechoslovak republic. The latter coration was in recognition of his services in organizing the medical and surgical department of the Czechoslovak armies and in the building of hospitals for that nation.

It was early in 1918 that Dr. Whiteside, then holding the office of assemblyman from Portage county and enjoying a large medical practice in town, left for overseas to do his bit for the cause. He had been previously rejected by the army because of defective eyesight, but he was determined to serve. He was soon in France in his characteristic way he set out to perform the big task that had been laid out for him. On the part he was director of field hospitals and as such traveled over much of France and Belgium, building, equipping and creating the personnel for numerous institutions for the care of sick and wounded soldiers. After the mistice he was called to Paris headquarters and assigned as business manager of the bureau of hospital administration, embracing the administration of military hospitals, convalescent homes, infirmaries and dispensaries. Subsequently he became business manager of the medical and surgical department of the Red Cross, which embraces the bureau of administration, and finally director of this department, succeeding Colonel C. C. Iringame, an army officer. He had so served as deputy director for a time, but from March to July of this year was at the head of the department.

Comes Through Italy

On leaving France for home, Dr. Whiteside stopped at Rome and Genoa and sailed from the latter city on the illian White Star liner Dante Alighieri. Stops were made at Naples, where he enjoyed an interesting "side-p," and at Tunis, Gibraltar and the Azores. He landed in New York on August 9.

Dr. Whiteside has not been discharged from the Red Cross service, but will return to New York on October 1. Work he will have to do is expected to occupy his time the next six or eight months. His plans for the future are undecided.

Admires The French

"I am a great admirer of France and the French people," Dr. Whiteside told the Journal-Gazette. But it is in talking of the American soldier—the plain, everyday doughboy—at his enthusiasm reached its high-pitch. He had seen the American soldier under every imaginable condition and he sums him up in the one word—"Wonderful."

An interesting incident in connection with Dr. Whiteside's stay in France was his meeting with Premier M. Ignace Paderewski of Poland and the Red Cross offices in Paris.

SHOCK OF WAR MURDER DEFENSE OF WAR VETERAN

Hera, of Vimy Ridge, charged with killing of Daughter's Suitor, Attributes Deed to Unbalanced Mind Due to Injuries

(By United Press) Gold Beach, Ore., September 8—A hero of Vimy Ridge, George D. Chenoweth, is facing fire again today from the battery of legal talent commanded by C. H. Buffington, prosecuting attorney for Curry county.

Whether the World War veteran will escape unscathed from the present battle depends upon a jury which will decide if he is guilty of murdering George Sydnam.

The legal battle of today, at which the freedom for the balance of his lifetime is at stake, and the fight when his life was in the balance as he faced Hun bullets and shells are interwoven. The defense will attempt to prove that due to the fact that he was gassed, and later knocked senseless by a fragment of a boche shell, Chenoweth's mind was somewhat unbalanced; that the veteran was a victim of emotional insanity when he shot and killed Sydnam.

Chenoweth, returning home from the war, found, he claimed, that his daughter had been betrayed by Sydnam, aged 20. He immediately sought the young man, found him dancing in a public hall, and fired several shots into his body. Chenoweth gave himself up.

Practically all interest, at the opening of the Curry county circuit court here today, centered on the case. Chenoweth is a former member of the Oregon legislature.

SERVED ON MINE LAYER

George Kalke Home After Many Months Spent on Atlantic and the North Sea

George Kalke, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kalke of this city, has been released from active service in the navy after serving for 21 months and making three round trips across the Atlantic and back and 14 mine laying trips between Norway and Scotland in the North Sea.

Mr. Kalke is a fireman, first class, and served on the U. S. S. Canonicus. Early in the summer of 1917 this ship held the distinction of having planted more mines at any one time and in an unbroken string than any other mine planter in the world. When the armistice was signed she had planted a total of 9,847 mines, which is believed to be over 1,000 in excess of the record of her nearest competitor.

The Canonicus upon which Fireman Kalke served, has won the title of "Premier Mine Planter." After the cessation of hostilities, in company with the entire mine squadron, the ship made a trip to Scapa Flow and there the local soldier witnessed the surrender of the German High Fleet. His ship then went to Portland, England and on Dec. 17, 1918 left enroute for home via the Azores islands. The Canonicus arrived in Hampton Roads, Va., last January and later was sent to the Navy Yard at Boston. As a member of her crew, Kalke made three round trips across the Atlantic and back on transport duty after the armistice was signed. The ship's mine laying operations during the war were carried on in the North Sea.

LOCAL MARINE DISCHARGED AFTER TWO YEARS' SERVICE

Howard Wells, who enlisted in the marine corps early in the summer of 1917, has received his discharge and has arrived home. Mr. Wells had enlisted with the hope of getting overseas, but he never got sight of France. He was kept on this side, mostly in tropical regions. He is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wells, his sister, Mrs. W. E. Atwell, and other local residents. Later he will return to Tulsa, Okla., where he was employed before entering the service.

MILLADORE MAN KILLED BY BULL

Horrible Death Comes to Adam Shidell at His Farm Home when He is Attacked by Infuriated Animal

HIS BODY BADLY MUTILATED

Son of Victim Comes to Rescue but Arrives Too Late to Save Father's Life

Adam Shidell, an uncle of Mrs. J. L. Roy, 532 Fremont street, this city, died at his home three miles south of Milladore village last Thursday evening as the result of injuries received an hour before when he was attacked by a bull.

Mr. Shidell had gone to a field on his farm to drive his cows to the barn. He was struck by the enraged bull and thrown to the ground before he could reach a place of safety. The animal continued his attacks for several minutes, crushing and badly mutilating the body of the victim.

Neighbor Sees Tragedy

A neighbor passing by the place where the accident occurred, he claimed, that his daughter had been betrayed by Sydnam, aged 20. He immediately sought the young man, found him dancing in a public hall, and fired several shots into his body. Chenoweth gave himself up.

Injuries Are Fatal

A physician was summoned and it was discovered that his left leg was broken and left hip mutilated. Several ribs on his right side were broken and his body badly crushed. He also suffered internal injuries. Mr. Shidell was able to speak when his son arrived, but lost consciousness after being removed to his home and passed away an hour later.

Pioneer of Community

The deceased is survived by a widow and 10 children. Born in Alsace-Lorraine 76 years ago, he came to America when a boy of 14 and after a residence in Fond du Lac, Wis., moved to Wisconsin. The family has resided near Milladore for about 35 years.

Funeral on Saturday

Funeral services were held at Milladore Saturday afternoon with burial at that place. Mrs. Elizabeth Burns of Sibleton, a sister of the deceased, who attended the funeral, spent today at the Roy home in this city while returning to her home.

STATE FAIR THIS WEEK

Excursion Rates Offered to Milwaukee as Inducement Toward Increasing Attendance

One and one-half fare round trip tickets to Milwaukee are being sold at the Soo station this week as an inducement toward increasing the attendance at the State Fair.

Announcement of the excursion rate is contained in a circular issued by the general passenger department of the United States Railway Administration. Round trip tickets will be sold at the cheaper rate during the week. The dates of the State Fair are September 15-19. The excursion rate from Stevens Point to Milwaukee and return is $7.73.

Many Stevens Point people attend the State Fair each year and numerous local residents will no doubt take advantage of the cheaper rates offered this week to visit the exposition in Milwaukee.

One and one-half fare round trip tickets will also be sold next week for the Chippewa Falls fair, the dates of which are Sept. 15-19.

EAU CLAIRE SECURES

N. W. TEACHERS' MEET

Announcement has been made that the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' Association, which draws an attendance generally of close to 2,000 teachers, will be held at Eau Claire this year on October 17 and 18. The 1918 convention was postponed and later called off on account of the influenza epidemic. Each year many Stevens Point teachers attend the association convention, and it is likely that this year will be well represented at Eau Claire next month.

LITTLE GIRL DIES HER BURNS FATAL

Ada Andrae, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Andrae, Accidentally Burned while at Play at Her Parents' Home

DIES A FEW HOURS LATER

Child of Six, in Her First Term at School, is Taken Away in Tragic Manner

Ada Andrae, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Andrae, died Sunday morning at 4:30 o'clock at the Andrae home, 541 Clark street, from the effects of burns accidentally received at 2:30 p. m. on Saturday.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Andrae, according to custom, was taking a nap with her youngest child, Mr. Andrae was at his farm in the town of Stockton, and the other two children, Ada and Gus, the latter aged 5, were playing about the premises. Grace Siebert, a child of 12, had come to the Andrae residence on an errand, and little Ada Andrae coaxed her to stay and play with her. The three children were in the playroom at the rear of the house on the second floor. Matches and candles had always been forbidden the children, but Ada had obtained a candle and matches in a manner unknown, and she proceeded to light the candle to beat a toy curler to curl her doll's hair. As she was reaching across the candle for one of the doll's garments, she set fire and in a flash she was a mass of flames.

She ran down the back stairs, through the kitchen, past Cecilia Grubba, who is employed there, through the living room and out upon the side porch. She then turned back through the living room and kitchen and out upon the back porch, then turned again back into the kitchen. There she was met by J. E. Thorke, who was working in one of the inner rooms and had run out when he first heard the child scream. Mr. Thorke seized a pail of water and dashed it over the child, putting out the flames.

In the meantime little Gus Andrae, when he saw his sister's danger, ran to his mother's room and aroused her. Dr. E. H. Rogers arrived quickly and found the little victim suffering terribly but still on her feet in the living room. He dressed the injuries immediately and succeeded greatly in relieving her pain. Mr. Andrae arrived in a few minutes after he had been notified at his farm and the family was in attendance at the bedside of the little girl until the end came. After she received medical attention she did not suffer greatly, death being due to the extent of her burns. The burns were about the upper limb and back and round the waist. Her face was untouched and as the little body lay in the living room today no mark on the face showed any sign of what had happened. A number of the schoolmates of the child called today and were admitted for a last view of her. She had entered school in the first grade in the First ward only last Monday.

Besides the parents, who are heart-broken over the loss of their little daughter, the members of the family consist of Gustave, aged 5, and Anita, aged 3. Ada was born April 3, 1918.

The funeral was held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the house. Services, which were private, were conducted by Rev. E. Croft and Rev. R. J. McLandress. Interment was in Forest cemetery.

Little Ada was a general favorite among her friends, both young and old, a bright little girl of a most lovable nature. Her tragic death is not only the source of heartfelt sorrow to her parents, but to the entire community, whose warm-hearted sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Andrae.

COMMITTEE NAMES NEW ORGANIZATION PERFECTED HERE

"Stevens Point Community Club"

Ready to Enroll All Interested Persons—General Campaign to Open Next Wednesday

The Stevens Point Community club is the name of the new organization which is to take over the Parish house for the purpose of making it a center for the city's social life and athletic activities.

The name was decided upon at a meeting Sunday of the organization committee, consisting of C. W. Cops, chairman; E. A. Oberweiser, C. A. Joerns, J. E. Delzell and H. G. Quantad. The committee at that time worked out plans for the membership campaign, which will formally open on Wednesday morning.

The community club idea has been so warmly received that the committee has little trouble in enrolling more than enough members to guarantee the financial success of the project. A campaign has already been started for patron members at a fee of $25 a year, and the aim is to get 100 of these members before the real campaign opens on Wednesday. The campaign beginning Wednesday will be conducted by nine committees, three of which will be made up of women, each team with a captain and five assistants. A meeting of team members will be held this evening to complete final arrangements for the drive.

A thorough inspection of the Parish House has been made and plans drawn for the arrangement of athletic and other equipment that will be necessary in the conduct of the organization. It has also been decided to add two shower baths, making four in all.

E. E. Zurier, a former star athlete at Ripon college and who recently completed a special course in physical training work at the University of Wisconsin, has been engaged as physical director of the new club and began work Monday morning. He will assist in the organization of the club and arrange and supervise its activities.

EDITORIAL

The President and the Treaty

Our highly-esteemed president, who fairly hates himself, started on his tour for the peace treaty with the impression that as soon as he began talking to the people they would arise so emphatically to his support that all critics of the treaty would have to take to the woods. Disappointed with his reception at his first meetings, he is said to have decided it was because his classic language did not appeal to the common people. It would be more effective, he thought, to talk to them in what in Princetonian circles is known as "the vernacular," but which in the crude circles of society with which we are most familiar is called "slang." So the president in his third speech dropped his "may I nots" and demanded that his critics "put up or shut up." Before the week is out Mr. Wilson will be telling us that "he'll say so."

Yet, unless we mistake the reasons for the criticism of the treaty, it is unlikely that complaint will be stilled by a change in the president's manner of speech. Discounting partisan opposition, always to be expected, the more serious objection comes from those who are not assured that the treaty fully protects American rights. Mr. Wilson feels that our national rights are fully conserved. He may be right. Yet the very fact that there are differing opinions as to what some sections of the treaty mean proves the need of putting it into language so clear that there can be no mistake in its interpretation. There can be nothing improper in putting America first in American consideration and in insisting that ambiguous wording shall not be permitted to be used with result that trouble may arise in years to come. Surely there can be nothing wrong in demanding that the American representation in the League of Nations shall be as large as that held by any other nation and its colonies, in making it plain that this country still opposes attempts of European or Asiatic nations to acquire or extend possessions in this hemisphere, in declaring that naturalization, colonization, and other American domestic question will be decided by America alone, and in reviving the paragraph which seems to place a duty upon the United States to go to war if necessary to prevent any outside assistance being given any oppressed nation which may revolt against its present masters. We do not think that all the ancient and new slang the president is able to put into his remarks can justify his attitude that there shall be no clarification of those sections of the treaty which men as honest as himself fear are at best doubtful and possibly dangerous.

Evidence on the Clark Street Bridge

A party of west side ladies, driving home over the Clark street bridge one day last week, saw a drunken man lying at the edge of the bridge in a position so dangerous that one arm was hanging over the water. Other passersby promised to look after him and to send for an officer, but the women who noticed him from their car were so worried that a half hour later they returned to find the man still on the bridge, but drawn back to a safer place.

The Journal has not been informed whether any legal proceedings in this case occurred. The proper course would seem to have been simple. In such cases the drunken man should be kept in custody until he was sobered up, and not released then until he has revealed the name of the person who furnished him the liquor. If he is slow to respond, stiff sentence in jail for drunkenness would loosen his tongue.

At the time of the incident on the Wisconsin river bridge, it was remarked that "that was the effect of near beer." That was a mistake. It was not the result of near beer. It would take the real beer, or something still stronger to do the work. A number of persons laid in before July 1 stocks of private liquors. Since then some persons may be selling liquor in violation of the law. But men are not getting drunk on the malt beverages with little or no alcoholic content, and so far as saloonkeepers confine themselves to the sale of beverages not forbidden by federal law, or even state law, they are not turning out the kind of product which was found on the bridge. Here and there may be found a saloonkeeper who is secretly selling something stronger. The objection to the two and three-fourths per cent beer is not its strength, but the opportunity it may give for fraud.

To make the dry law effective police officers should be vigilant in making arrest of persons intoxicated, less with intent of prosecuting them than with purpose of learning from them who is really responsible for their condition. We are quite sure the chief of police here is in entire sympathy with the law and that he will heartily co-operate in all efforts for its enforcement.

Liberal Treatment for Wisconsin Soldiers

It cannot be maintained that the state of Wisconsin has not been liberal in its treatment of its soldiers. The people of the state last week ratified a proposition to appropriate $15,000,000 in bonuses to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and nurses. Later in the week the legislature, in special session, appropriated another $15,000,000 to educate soldiers, sailors and nurses honorably discharged. Thus the state is about to spend $30,000,000 on its defenders in the late war.

The money for each appropriation is to be raised largely through a surtax on individual and corporation incomes. In addition to the regular income taxes, those who enjoy incomes above the exemptions fixed for that purpose will pay an extra tax. Not all the money required for the two soldier bills can be raised in that way; the balance will come from direct taxation.

The bonus bill was submitted and the educational bill was passed by a legislature in which not one soldier of the War with Germany sat as a member. It was a legislature also in whose election only a handful of soldiers participated. Since that election the soldiers have returned to Wisconsin by the hundreds of thousands. They are sure to be a mighty influence in the election in Wisconsin in 1920 and in each election subsequently held, and it is certain that in each legislature hereafter a number of ex-soldiers will be members. It is no to be expected that with the soldiers themselves taking a direct and almost controlling part in affairs, the soldiers, sailors and nurses of Wisconsin will receive any less generous treatment in the future than they are getting now.

An Athletic Club for Stevens Point

It has been recognized for months by everybody that Stevens Point is in need of an organization which may be called "an athletic club," or by a term as high-sounding as "a community club," but whatever its name, a center where people may congregate for amusement and exercise. Various plans have been proposed and have received favorable consideration. But it has not seemed possible to get a start toward putting any of them through.

The opportunity is now here. A number of business men have banded themselves together in a temporary organization to put it over. The same arguments are to be made which were made a year ago. There is the same reason for providing such a center for the men and women of the town. But this time fortunately a definite plan is available and an experienced leader has been enlisted to take charge of the campaign. Clinton W. Copps, who was an athlete at college and has been interested in athletics ever since and who is an enthusiast on the subject of physical exercise and fellowship among the men of the town, has consented to head the temporary organization. It is going to take a lot of time and hard work and some expense, and his associates have fairly decided to back him up to the limit. With Mr. Copps' personal magnetism, ability and knowledge of the game, there is no good reason why a proposition which everybody believes in cannot be put over. Anyhow now is the appointed time, and if the club is not carried through at this time, prospects favor an indefinite postponement.

GREEN WILL ATTEND
UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

E. E. Green of Steubenville, O., member of the Stevens Point High school faculty last year, is spending several days in the city and is a guest at the Harry Spaulding home, 708 Wisconsin street. He has been spending the summer near Stone Lake and has been at the Courte d'Areilles Fishing club for a number of weeks. Gerald Spaulding spent the first part of the summer with Mr. Green near the resorts at Stone Lake and Otto von Neupert was also with them a couple of weeks. Mr. Green will spend four or five days in the city and then leave for Chicago to enter the University of Chicago.

WILL HEAR WITNESSES

(By United Press)

Washington, September 6—Members of the senate agricultural committee indicated today that they will hear witnesses favoring the Kenyon and Kendrick bill regulating the packing industry before making up their minds on the measure. Chairman Gronna said today that farmers and many small cattlemen are unable to leave their work now and come to Washington and that a recess of 30 days ought to be taken to give them time to appear.

MAJOR GENERAL MAY VISIT HERE

It is Altogether Probable That E. F. McGlachlin Will Make a Trip to Stevens Point in the Near Future

FATHER EXTENDS INVITATION

E. McGlachlin Wires His Son Asking Him to Return to the Old Home

Major General E. F. McGlachlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. McGlachlin of this city, who has just returned from overseas in command of the famous First division, may come back for a visit to his childhood home within a month. He may be expected as early as the first of October.

A telegram sent to him by his father congratulating him upon his return to the United States and extending an invitation for a visit to the old home town, has been answered in a telegram from Major McGlachlin. Although it states that "nothing is certain about leave," his parents are confident that within a few weeks a most happy family reunion will be brought to a consummation.

Division to Parade

Major General McGlachlin, in command of the First division, is now in New York, where the division will parade next Tuesday. The men will then be sent to Camp Meade, after which they will parade in Washington and again be returned to Camp Meade. After these ceremonies have been carried out, Major McGlachlin expects to secure a leave of absence and make a trip to Wisconsin.

Family May Come

He will probably be accompanied by his wife and daughter, Elizabeth, who are now at West Point. They are expected to travel on a direct route to Chicago and from there directly to Stevens Point.

Plans for a welcome home by Stevens Point people on the occasion of the arrival of the city's ranking army officer will no doubt be made. General McGlachlin made a visit to Stevens Point two years ago. He then held the rank of a colonel. He has since won promotion to brigadier general and major general.

The New York Parade

Messages from New York state that arrangements for the reception of General Pershing and the parade of the First division of the regular army, with the American commander in chief at its head, have been completed. General Pershing's ship, the Leviathan, is expected to reach New York on Sunday or Monday.

Pershing's Staff

In the first division parade, General Pershing will have for his staff all the generals who have commanded the famous unit since the declaration of the war. They will include Major General William Sibert, who took the division overseas and later returned to take charge of the chemical warfare service; Lieut. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, who left the division on July 12, 1918, to take command of the Second army; Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, who succeeded General Bullard; Brig. Gen. Frank Parker, who relieved General Summerall in October, and Maj. Gen. E. F. McGlachlin, the present commander.

Field Gun Souvenir

One of the most interesting features of the parade will be the presence of the first American field gun fired in the great war and the first American colors borne on the front. These historic relics will be brought from Washington where they are being preserved as souvenirs. Another novel feature will be the presence of the welfare workers who were attached to the division.

At the division headquarters it is estimated that between 23,000 and 25,000 men will take part in the parade which will take five to six hours to pass a given point and will be 14 miles long. All former members of the division are invited to take part.

Tribute to Division

The record of the First division furnishes a splendid chapter in American history," the war department said on Tuesday in an official message of greeting to the division.

"The war department sends greetings to the First division on its arrival home after a career, and with a record unsurpassed by any division in the American expeditionary force," said the message. "This superb command contains the finest type of American manhood—men whose services have been of incalculable value to the country. The record of this division furnishes a splendid chapter in American history, and will always be dear to the hearts of all Americans."

Worden, Charles Petrick, Buchanan Johnson and G. O. Gont of Plainfield and E. F. Kileen, J. E. Dignon, Guy Numbrue and A. A. Krueger of Wautoma."

RE-UNION OF FAMILY

Bishop and Mrs. R. H. Weller and Their Five Sons Are Guests at the Nelson Home

An informal family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Nelson in this city Friday. Bishop and Mrs. R. H. Weller of Fond du Lac, parents of Mrs. Nelson, arrived in Stevens Point at noon and their five sons, all of whom have been in military service, motored to Stevens Point from their home Thursday.

The five sons of Bishop and Mrs. Weller are Reginald H., Jr., Dan B., Grafton C., Walter, and Horace. Reginald Weller recently returned from France, where he served in the Rainhow division. He held a first lieutenant's commission and participated in many of the most severe battles on the western front, including the struggle at Chateau Thierry. His return home completed the family circle and made possible the family reunion.

Dan Weller, also a first lieutenant, served with the 339th Infantry in the Archangel district. He has been home two months. Grafton Weller, a second lieutenant, was in signal corps service in France and returned home five months ago. Walter was stationed at Camp Hancock, Ga., and Horace was in American Red Cross service and ready to leave for overseas at the time of the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918.

That five sons from one family served in the late war is a splendid record, and that all returned home safely is most remarkable.

MONEY ASKED TO AID FIGHT ON INFLUENZA

Senator France, Chairman of the Committee, Predicts Favorable Action on Measure to Appropriating Five Million Dollars

(By United Press)

Washington, September 5—Favorable action on the resolution to investigate the influenza danger was predicted today by Senator France, Md., chairman of the senate committee on public health and national quarantine, which has the measure pending.

"I think the committee's action will be favorable," Senator France said "although I imagine that there will be objection to appropriating $5,000,000 for the purpose as called for in the resolution. It probably will be reported with a smaller amount as that seems a little larger than is needed for a scientific investigation."

Representative Fess of Ohio, author of the house bill, which provides a $1,500,000 fund for the influenza investigation, said:

"With no influenza in the country today to any degree congress is apt to thing there is no need for immediate action. But the fact is that all medical authorities agree there is liable to be a repetition of the epidemic which caused ten times more deaths in this country when it recently appeared than the total losses of the American expeditionary forces."

"Congress would be guilty of gross neglect if it did not provide for an investigation of the causes of this disease. That is the all important thing we must discover first and it will require a large appropriation to obtain the services of the most noted scientists."

"The cure cannot be found, medical authorities tell us, until the cause is ascertained and the germ found. That has been the way cures of other diseases, such as yellow fever, have been found, after medical authorities were baffled for some time."

Action should be taken, he believes, before the weather comes that encourages the spread of disease and this point will be emphasized in the campaign to pass the appropriation.

GOMPERS ASKS PRESIDENT TO ARRANGE CONFERENCE

President of Federation of Labor Calls on Wilson to Help Avert a Crisis

(By United Press)

Washington, September 5—Acting for steel workers, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today wired President Wilson, asking him to use his influence in arranging a conference with the United States Steel corporation.

Wilson is asked to make reply before Tuesday, when the president of 24 international unions of the steel industry will be here to decide on future action.

The telegram declares that while the men have been restrained from striking, they are indignant, and a strike now might endanger the whole structure which the president has built up for an adjustment of the industrial dispute. It further declares that "having thus far been enabled to prevail on the men not to engage in a strike," labor leaders cannot say how much longer they will be able to exert that influence.

One of the horses belonging to the local office of the American Railway Express became frightened while standing hitched to a wagon on Strong's Avenue at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, and although properly hitched with a weight, broke away and ran to the corner of Main and Strong's Avenue. There the wagon collided with the traffic post, the horse continuing to run west on Main. When near the Macinnes store on the north side of the street the wagon struck the photograph display of the Cook studio, tearing it from its foundation. As the wheels struck the curb, the wagon toppled over on the sidewalk. The horse was stopped by passersby. The wagon was but slightly damaged. No persons were injured.

COMMUNITY CLUB PROPOSED HERE

Movement for Formation of City-wide Organization Takes Definitive Form Through Local Business Men

BUILDING IS MADE AVAILABLE

Arrangements Made to Lease Parish House and Membership Campaign is Planned

From Friday's Daily.
A community organization designed to promote wholesome recreation, the development of strong bodies and alert minds, social opportunities and all things that make for strong character and good citizenship is in the making in Stevens Point.

Responding to a popular demand which has been insistent for several years past a group of local business men has worked out a definite plan for the formation of a community organization on strictly non-sectarian lines, which will serve as a center for the city's social and athletic activities. An organization committee consisting of C. W. Copps, chairman; E. A. Oberweiser, C. A. Joerns, H. G. Quandt and Jas. E. Delzell, has been named to work out the details, and it is announced that, unless unforeseen delays prevent, a city-wide campaign for members will be inaugurated on Wednesday, September 10.

Building Is Available

The question of a suitable building, which has always been the most serious problem to overcome, has been solved. A proposition has been made for leasing to the organization the Parish House, a building which contains a large hall, well adapted to athletic purposes, three bowling alleys, billiard tables, shower baths, parlors, dressing rooms and a good heating plant, with thorough ventilation and adequate lighting facilities throughout. The building and equipment represent an investment of more than $25,000 and could not be duplicated today for less than $40,000. It will be leased to the new organization for $2,000 a year.

Is Going Business

In addition to the buildings and equipment, the new organization, in taking over the Parish House, will get a "going business," which up to this time, without any attempt being made to build it up, has yielded a handsome return each year. The income includes hall rental and revenues from bowling alleys and billiard tables. The new organization could greatly increase it by creating greater interest in what the building has to offer and by holding entertainments, dances, athletic contests and other events on its own account.

Will Be Open to All

Membership in the new organization will be open to all and it is planned to have a large representation of women and children as well as men and young men. Athletic games of all kinds will be encouraged by a physical director who will instruct and supervise in various sports, games and drills. Classes will be organized to meet regularly and a special effort made to develop the social side of the club's activities.

Plan Large Membership

The committee in charge of the organization work aims to secure a large number of members at a small fee rather than a small membership at a large fee. In this way the organization can be made more democratic in character and broader in scope, and thus of more value to the community, without placing a heavy burden on anyone. The scale of membership fees, together with other details, will be announced well in advance of the time the membership campaign starts.

Long Felt Want

Stevens Point has long felt the need of a community center, where young and old could assemble to spend their leisure time and to indulge in exercises, sports and games tending toward mental and physical development in a wholesome and moral atmosphere. Parents who have been concerned about the welfare of their sons and daughters will see in the institution the fulfillment of a hope long expressed—the hope that Stevens Point might have some place where children could spend their spare time in pleasant association and healthful activities without fear of harmful influences. Men and women will welcome the opportunity the institution will afford to get away from the monotony of life, to meet their acquaintances in an informal, friendly way and to participate in games and exercises that will give them added mental and physical vigor.

Watch for Announcements

Further announcements of the aims of the organization, together with information regarding membership and other details, will be made from time to time. The committee is determined to make the project a success and is content that what it is attempting will meet with the hearty support of residents of Stevens Point interested in strong character, strong minds, strong bodies and, in general, all of the better things of life.

Ready October 1

It is the plan now to have the organization perfected in time to begin the club's activities on October 1.

TO BEGIN WORK SOON

Plans and Specifications Sent for New Library at the Stevens Point Normal

Arthur Peabody, the state architect, has written to President Sims of the Stevens Point Normal school to the effect that he is sending under separate cover two sets of plans and specifications for the new library at the Stevens Point Normal. The state architect also writes that bids will be received by Secretary William Kittle of the board of Normal school regents up to 3 p. m. on Saturday, September 9.

The announcement that the plans and specifications are to be placed in the hands of bidders means in effect that the new library at the State Normal school here will be under construction within a very short time. An appropriation of $16,000 has been available for the improvement since July 1. The contract for the building of the new library here will probably be let shortly after bids are received and it is probable that work will commence early this fall.

TWO NATIONS HONOR MEMORY OF LA FAYETTE

Birthday of French Patriot Commemorated in Native Land by Laying of Cornerstone for Monument—America Marks Day

(By United Press)
Pointe de Grave, France, Sept. 6—France today honored La Fayette's birthday by laying a cornerstone here on the site from which he set sail for America of the monument which is to be erected in commemoration of American aid and intervention.

President Poincare laid the first stone for the monument. Premier Clemenceau, Marshal Foch, Ambassador Hugh Wallace and Secretary Frank Polk assisted at the ceremony.

Units of American and French soldiers marched in review and acted as guards of honor, while just off the coast in the estuary of the Gironde river American and French battleships cruised by the historic point.

Pointe de Grave is located on the south shore of the Gironde just at its mouth. It was on March 24, 1777, that La Fayette, with his small force, sailed for America. All American troops which landed at Bordeaux during the past two years passed close by this spot which until today was unmarked.

Bartholome, famous French sculptor, has been commissioned to erect the monument. It will symbolize the homage of France for the great aid brought in the hour of need by the United States.

A message from President Wilson expressing his profound interest and appreciation in the name of the entire American people and his personal regards at not being able to be present, was read.

New York, September 6—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood was scheduled to be the principal speaker at the formal ceremony in commemoration of La Fayette's 162d anniversary, held at City Hall here today.

The celebration, according to the La Fayette Day National committee, was being widely observed throughout the country, the mayors of many cities having promised to co-operate in making the commemoration exercises great successes.

Among the cities where elaborate plans for the day had been made were San Francisco; Lynn, Mass.; Newark, N. J.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Louisville, Ky.; Pueblo, Colo.; Yonkers, N. Y., and Passaic, N. J.

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco heads the committee in that city and recently was decorated by the French government with the Legion of Honor in recognition of the fine record made by San Francisco during the war.

New York, September 6—La Fayette day and the 5th anniversary of the first battle of the Marne are being simultaneously celebrated throughout the nation today.

Formal ceremonies were held here at the statues of Joan d' Arc and Marquis La Fayette in the city and in the city hall. A banquet was tendered Jules Jusserand, French ambassador, and members and guests of the Federation of French War Veterans.

NYE BILL WINS IN LEGISLATURE

New Law Provides for Free Education and Compensation for State's Honorable Discharged Fighters

TAX LEVY PROVIDED IN ACT

Compensation of $30 a Month to be Awarded, Covering a Period of Four Years

(By United Press)
Madison, Wis., September 5—The Wisconsin legislature, in special session, today passed the Nye bill providing for free education and compensation for the state's honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses. A tax levy of $15,000,000 was provided for to carry out the act.

The vote in the senate on the measure was 28 to 1 and in the house 69 to 22. Debate in the assembly was quite heated, the charge being that the $15,000,000 tax levy, added to the levy of $15,000,000 provided for in the soldiers' bonus law, which was passed at the recent referendum election, was too great a burden. It was also argued that only a small percentage of those entitled to share in the benefits of the act would be benefited.

Tax on Incomes

Approximately $1,000,000 a year will be raised for a period of five years by means of surtax on incomes, beginning with 1918 incomes, and the balance will be raised by a direct tax on property. The surtax will fall upon individual and corporation incomes. Individual incomes will not be affected until the fourth $1,000 of net income is reached the tax starting at 7-20 of one per cent. Above $12,000 the tax will be one and 2-10 per cent. On corporations the tax on the first $1,000 of income will be 4-10 of one per cent and is one and 2-10 per cent on incomes in excess of $7,000.

Many to Benefit

The bill provides that those entitled to share in the benefits of the bill may take courses at the University of Wisconsin, the normal schools and other institutions at a cost to the state, for compensation of $30 a month, covering a period of education up to four years. It is estimated that 10,000 will take advantage of the offer.

Several local young men who served their country during the war are planning to take advantage of the opportunities afforded under the terms of the bill and will enroll in educational institutions this fall.

Paris, September 4—Nine soldiers of the American Expeditionary Forces were hanged and one shot for criminal offenses during the war, it was revealed today at the investigation of A. E. F. courts martial by the congressional committee inquiring into war expenditures.

Two of the hangings were for murder, the investigation brought out. Seven men were hanged for rape, of whom six were negroes. There was a single execution for desertion.

Most of the officers tried were charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Convictions were obtained in 67 per cent of the officers' cases brought to trial, while 77 per cent of the enlisted men tried were found guilty. Only one conscientious objector was tried in the A. E.
